

Boxing On Saturday night - continued:

The first fight of the night was between Peter Stanley and Lex Fulford. They were evenly matched but Peter Stanley won on points.

Paul Sibley and Jim Reid had a ding dong go with Paul hailed as the winner, but it was a hard decision to make.

Peter Chookie defeated Norman Aden who tried rushing tactics but Peter Chookie's long reach was too much for him.

Albert Wotton fought John Barry and his neater and more controlled punching piled up points for him and contributed largely to his win.

Arthur James defeated Norman Fulford by a K.O. in the 2nd round achieved by better boxing against a strong opponent.

Reg Barry boxed Toby Christie in a closely contested fight in which Christie won by a K.O. in the last round of a four round bout. These men fought in a fast and furious fashion throughout.

James Fourmile won on a T.K.O. from Kirk Jacko who had had enough in the 3rd round.

Percy McAvoy won an accidental foul from Fred Lenoy. Challengers for next fortnight are as follows - Rex Colnel challenged Albert Wotton Nelson Brumby " Arthur James Allan Barry " Toby Christie

Pearl buttons come from gold and silver-lipped shells found near Australia. The centre of the industry is Thursday Island, a small barren island in the Torres Strait off the northern-most tip of our land. The United States is consumer of about 90 per cent of our shell output. To make buttons, cylindrical "blanks" are drilled from the shell, sliced to the correct thickness, and then ground by machine.

In the city of Fort Myers, in Florida, US, newspapers are given away free on any day on which the sun does not shine.

the
shou
is a

I
beca
that not
of c
to c

elec
whe
you
to
who

ins
equ
Ele
suc
not

des
soc
po
da

an
by
fi
on