

Visit To MacKay - continued:

but not before we had said goodbye to the friends who had come to see us off, and to our genial host Mr McColl, who took a special pride in the welfare of our boys during their stay in that city.

All agreed it was a wonderful trip and a bond of friendship has been created between this Settlement and the city of MacKay which we feel sure will be to the mutual benefit of both places.

DANCING.

Some spectacular dancing was witnessed last Saturday night when the Island dancers and corroboree dancers took the field. It was pleasing to see the young lads from the Boys' Home participating. It was hoped more young boys will take an interest in the various forms of dancing so that they will not be lost to posterity.

It is felt a little more interest from the public will help to encourage our dancers to prepare and put on more varied programmes on dance nights. The patrons are reminded to come along early so that a prompt start can be made and a longer time be available to the dancers.

Miss Judy Laura contributed to the evening's entertainment by singing a solo.

Mr Barkey Sailor threw out a challenge to a single-hand dance next dance night - a fortnight hence.

You who are ashamed of your poverty, and blush for your calling, are a snob; as are you who boast of your pedigree, or are proud of your wealth.

Thackeray.
