OF QUEENSLAND

Editorial

The football season opens officially this week end. The success of this season depends solely upon the interest and enthusiasm whoen by its players.

The Selection Committee has been busy and all teams have now been graded and a series of matches for the completion of the first round of fixture-matches have been prepared and appears elsewhere in this issue.

The teams of registered players have now closed and any players who have not registered and wish to play this season must first have the approval of the Selection Committee before they can be registered.

Players will greatly assist in the successful running of this season's fixtures by being regular and prompt in their attendance at any matches they may be listed to take part in.

Matches will be played on the mainland and players seeking a place in the Representative team will do well to put forward their best efforts throughout the season. Strict observance of the rules of the game is very essential and conduct on the field will also be a deciding factor in selecting Representative players.

It is hoped to have visiting teams come to Palm Island this season and it is very likely that such teams will comprise of senior and junior players. (cont. over page)
